RUSS SOVIET SENDS CHINA DRAFT TREATY ASKS ACTION

Full Text Of Document Brought From Moscow Is Obtained

OFFERS ARE MADE

Inducements Held Out To Peking To Form An Alliance

(China Press Corrrespondence)

Peking Jan. 31.—THE CHINA PRESS correspondent has obtained a copy of the Soviet proposal to the Chinese Government for a political and commercial treaty which was brought back from Moscow by the mission of Major-General Chang Sze-ling. The communication from the Commissary of Foreign Affairs in Moscow adressed to the Minister of Foreign Affairs in Peking was delivered to General Chang Sze-ling in Moscow together with a covering letter addressed to General Chang, a translation of which is given below preceding the translation of the treaty proposal itself.

This proposal of the Russian Soviet, made upon October 2, last, follows, it will be seen, the general lines of the previous Soviet proposal to China of July 25, 1919, which is referred to. All the concessions gained by the Czarist regime are renounced and the Boxer Indemnity is cancelled, but the Soviet asks for a special agreement porviding for it the use of the Chinese Eastern Railway. Just what would be the manner and extent of this "use" is not stipulated. It is significant to note that "The Far Eastern Government" is to be made a party to this agreement.

FEAR PLOTTERS

The one thing which appears to exercise the Soviet govenment the most is the elimination of persons or organisations plotting from Chinese soil against the safety of the Soviet Republic. A characteristically Bolshevik touch, and one which shows that the Soviet cannot refrain from its habit of propagande even in official documents, is the statement that "The enemies of our two races, fearing that our union would mean the end of the present era, in which they can bully and brow-beat your people with impunity, are leaving no stone unturned to prevent our getting together.

THE LETTER

The following is a translation of the letter from the Board of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Republic to Mr. Chang Sze-ling, Head of the Chinese Mission to Moscow, asking him to hand to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Chinese Republic a note which is therein conclosed.

To His Excellency, Chang Sze-ling.

Diplomatic and Military Representative of the Chinese Republic.

October 2nd, 1920.

Dear Sir: The Board of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Republic hereby sends to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Chinese Republic a note containing terms which we recognise as the basis for the negotiation of a future treaty of peace and friendship between the two countries, and requests Your Excellency to transmit it to Your Government for careful consideration. The Board of Foreign Affairs hopes that it will soon be favored with a reply acquainting it with the attitude of Your Government toward the note, and that Your Excellency will use your best efforts for the speedy attainment of this fundamental object—the conclusion of a close alliance between China and Soviet Russia.

(Signed) Karshan
Acting Commissary of Foreign Affairs.

(Signed) Vosnesensky
Chief of the Department of Far Eastern Affairs.

TRANSLATION OF NOTE

The translation the note of the Board of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Republic to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Chinese Republic follows:

We have the honor to state that on July 25, 1919, the people's Commissary of Foreign Affairs of the United Socialist Republic addressed a declaration, or rather open letter, to the Chinese Republic and the Governments of the North and South, in which the Soviet Government expressed its willingness to abrogate all treaties which have been entered into between China and

CHINESE OFFICIALS HOLD UP LICENSE FOR RITZ CAFE

Over 1,000 Diners And Dancers Disappointed; No Date Fixed For Opening

Over 500 people who made reservations for dinner and as many more who had reserved tables for dancing at The Ritz last night were disappointed because the Chinese authorities held up the license for the cafe at the last minute.

It was not the fault of the management that the cafe did not open. An announcement was made that it was not known until seven o'clock that the license was held up and then it was too late to give notice in the evening papers.

All preparations had been made for the opening night. Tables were set, food was cooked and the new jazz band which arrived from the United States on Sunday was ready for the evening when the Chinese authorities delivered their ultimatum.

The management has not fixed a definite date for the opening of the new cafe but hopes to make an announcement in a day or two.

As a consequence of the lack of notice regarding the non-opening of the Ritz there was a frantic cavalcading of motor cars back to town and the other cafes. The Carlton was quickly flooded with hastily reconstructed dinner parties, as was also the Cafe Parisien and tables in the ballrooms of these establishments were soon surrounded to the utmost stretch of their respective circumferences.

MILLS IN BOMBAY REFUSE TO GRANT WAGE ADVANCES

Statement Of Conditions Is Made By Owners; Student Strike Spreads

(Reuter's Service)

Bombay, Jan. 29.—A meeting of millowners has decided to circularise the millhands, stating that, in view of the benefits received by them since the war, and the prevailing badess of trade in all parts of the world, no requests for advances can be granted; adding that in the event of a strike the mills may be closed down for two or three weeks.

Lahore, Jan. 30.—The students' strike, in connection with the non-co-operation movement, is spreading. Of 1,200 students of the day college here, only 30 are at present attending the lectures.

Allahabad, Jan. 30.—The threat of the rioters at Fyzabad to annihilate the police has not materialised, but the police are standing by.

Japan Playing For Favor At Opening Of Parliament Of Far Eastern Republic

Sending Of Mission To Chita Taken As Significant Advance; China Expected To Be Represented

BY UPTON CLOSE

The opening of the new Parliament of the Far Eastern Republic, which is expected to mark the political weaning of the Siberian soviet government, will take place with much ceremony within the next few days. The date was originally set for January 25, but had to be postponed owing to the non-completion of the elections among the army.

The elected parliamentarians are now, however, gathering at Chita, and the ceremony of inauguration is expected to take place by the first of February. In the towns, it is said, the communist party has failed to obtain a majority, but the vote from the army is expected to provide an out-and-out Bolshevik control.

JAPANESE INTERESTED

The Chita government has information which leads it to expect the attendance of an elaborate Japanese delegation at the ceremony of the opening of parliament. Information from the Japanese side seems to show that the Tokio government plans for a combined diplomatic, commercial and military mission consisting of representatives from the Japanese Foreign, War and Trade offices, to be present.

Naturally, the sending of such a delegation by Japan could be construed in only one way—as an advance on the part of Japan designed to encourage the speedy establishment of diplomatic and particularly trade relations with the new government. That the Russians, who would consider such an establishment as the greatest possible stroke of statesmanship and a great augury for the success of the newly-organised state, would go to every possible length to cause the Japanese advance to culminate fruitfully, goes without saying. The Japanese mission would be given royal welcome and a return mission to Tokio would be despatched as speedily as possible. However distasteful such a mission might be to the Japanese, they would not be able to refuse a return of their own courtesy.

The interesting thing is that while this rapprochement between the Russians and Japanese is scheduled to go on, the Chinese will, it is to be surmised, continue to play the part of the unrewarded but faithful assistants of Japan's schemes by maintaining the embargo on trade between the Transbaikal and Manchuria.

This policy, which has been followed since Semenoff's downfall, is probably inspired from two sources: one the Japanese influence brought to bear upon General Chang-Tso-lin to create in his mind a fear of the Far Eastern communists, and the other the influence of the Chinese Foreign Office which is commendably and legitimately endeavoring to exert pressure upon the Far Eastern Government which will compel it to render protection and justice to the persons and interests of Chinese citizens who are suffering in Siberia.

REASON FOR ACTION

Confirmed reports from Siberia would tend to show that the Chinese Government has abundant reason for exerting such a pressure in any way open to her. The first requisite of such a policy, however, is that it be beyond possibility of failure; otherwise it is likely to react in the opposite way from that intended.

It is apparent that China's late attempt to make the Siberian Bolsheviks behave by economic pressure can be no more successful than the like-motived attempts of the powers of Europe to coerce the Moscow Soviet into respecting the rights of their citizens by their economic blockade. China would be ill-advised, after witnessing several years of the miserable failure of the policy of the Allied premiers, to coerce the Moscow Soviet into regard to her own little Russian problem.

Particularly ill-advised would she be in view of the fore-handed diplomacy of Japan, which always stands ready to profit by any mistaken policy of the Chinese Foreign Office, or the overlords who guard her borders. If the Japanese, while China slumbers behind the doorway, slip into her neighbor's compound which she has barred, open an avenue of trade into the Far

LONDON OBSERVER GIVES VIEWS ON JAPANESE TREATY

Should Be Made Clear, Paper Says, English Speaking Races Will Resist Attack

(Reuter's Service)

London, January 30.—The Observer, in welcoming the appointment of Mr. Winston Churchill to the Colonial Office, remarks that the issue embracing sea-power, the Japanese Treaty and Anglo-American friendship must be probed by the Imperial Conference next June. It urges that the Imperial authorities should lose no time in showing that misapprehensions which have been entertained with regard to the Japanese Treaty are absolutely baseless.

It should, states the Observer, be made finally clear that if Japan attack any English-speaking people she will have to meet the combined force of the whole English-speaking race.

Japan, it adds, is entitled to her rights in Asia, just as English-speaking communities are entitled to theirs elsewhere. In the question of the Pacific, all English-speaking communities should guarantee each other against aggression, and should equally guarantee Japan against aggression.

U.S. Revenue Agent Visiting Shanghai

He comes to Shanghai after visiting Manila, Hongkong and Canton.

BANK OF FRANCE REVIEWS CAUSES OF WORLD CRISIS

Detailed Account Is Given Of Causes Giving Rise To Present Situation

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, January 30.—The report of the Bank of France, presented to a meeting of shareholders over which the Governor, M. Robineau, presided, contains a detailed account of the causes which gave rise to the present economic world-crisis and led to its present development. This serves to show clearly the policy adopted by the Bank of France to avert in this country as far as possible the repercussion of the world-crisis.

"The Bank," the report says, "has in fact succeeded in considerably diminishing the effects of the crisis by affording to the business world all the co-operation desired, however intense the crisis might be. We have refused no request for credit. We have honored all the paper, the creation of which corresponded to the legitimate needs of commerce and production. The total of bills held by the Bank has risen from 1,268,000,000 francs at December 29, 1919, to 3,276,000,000 francs at the close of last year.

ADVANCES SHOW INCREASE

The aggregate advances against deeds shows a corresponding increase from 1,451,000,000 francs to 2,205,000,000 francs. The Bank has today the satisfaction of being able to declare that the economic world-crisis has not attained the same degree of intensity in the markets of France that it has done in other countries. Indeed, there has been important progress towards the return of France to a state of economic normality. This progress has been especially marked by the development of agricultural production, the improvement of our trade balance, and the magnitude of the fiscal and financial effort to which the country has agreed.

The caravan of Shriners representing the Imperial Potentate of Afifi Temple of Tacoma, who are to conduct a special ceremonial in Shanghai beginning February 10, were entertained by local Shriners Sunday during the brief stop here of the liner Empress of Russia, on which the party is proceeding to Manila.

The party consists of Illustrious Past Potentate Ed. B. King, Illustrious Potentate G. C. Nolte and Mrs. Nolte, Noble Sherman and Mrs. Sherman and Nobles O. H. Carver and T. McCroskey. The visitors were met at the jetty by Mr. A. B. Rosenfeld, president, Dr. Julian Petit, chairman of the entertainment committee, and officers of Nomad Oasis and were taken for a tour of the city. They were entertained afterward at luncheon at the French Club, where a party of twenty-five sat down.

In the afternoon the representatives met a large number of local Shriners at a meeting held in the Masonic Temple and plans for the forthcoming ceremonial session were discussed. Afterward there was a tea party at the Astor House and in the evening the guests were entertained at dinner at the Carlton Cafe. The party was escorted to the ship by the committee on a special launch at 9 p.m.

Final arrangements for the ceremonial have been made and all preparations have been concluded for giving the degrees in accordance with the ritual which has been adopted by the Imperial Council of North America.

Application blanks for reservations at the banquet and ball to be given at the Astor House on February 11 have been mailed to all known addresses of members and indications are that there will be a large attendance. The affair is confined to members of the Mystic Shrine and their wives and lady friends. It is expected that there will be a large representation from the outports to participate in the Shriner activities here, numerous applications and inquiries having been sent in. A party of fifteen is to come down from Peking.

The party, accompanied by Nobles Petit and H. C. Classen, will proceed first to Manila, where a class will be put through, and will then go to Hongkong, catching the Shinyo Maru for Shanghai. They will leave for America by the Empress of Russia on February 12.

Leases Home In Reno; Divorce Is Reported

It is reported from Reno that Mrs. John D. Spreckels, Jr., wife of the wealthy Californian, has leased a residence there as "Mrs. Smith." Last October, Mrs. Spreckels' visit to London was suddenly shortened by the disappearance of $100,000 worth of jewels entrusted by her to Captain William Barrett, former husband of Alice Drexel, of Philadelphia. Barrett, to whom the jewels were given to have them cleaned and reset, was located in Los Angeles after his departure. He was released by the Los Angeles police because of insufficient evidence.

Doubt About U.S. Attitude With Regard To Detectives Who Sought Draft Dodger

(German Wireless through Reuter)

Berlin, Jan. 28.—The two alleged Americans, Zimmer (from Denver) and Charles Neaf (from Baltimore) are now locked up in Eberbach town jail awaiting indictment. Bystanders swear they attempted to kill Grover Bergdoll.

Are they, as Neaf claims, bona fide United States Government agents, or semi-official agents, or acting privately in the hope of gaining reward? Will the United States back them up, making the case a diplomatic incident, or, as the investigating Judge Schlimm, of Eberbach, in an interview, suggested, leave them to their fate, letting the individual suffer in order to save America's national diplomatic position?

Judge Schlimm, interviewed in his office in the Eberbach Court building, said: "Neaf insists that he is a professional detective, regularly assigned to the American forces at Coblenz, and that he receives ten thousand marks a month. Neaf informs us that he has carried out many missions similar to the attempt on Bergdoll, including operations in Prussia, where he claims he received the co-operation of Prussian officials.

U.S. ARMY IS SILENT

"Immediately after his arrest, Neaf asked us to send a meassage to the American Army at Coblenz. In the message, Neaf asked the Americans immediately to send a messenger to Eberbach. We sent Neaf's message, but so far, it has been unanswered. Coblenz is absolutely silent."

Judge Schlimm concluded that the silence of Coblenz was strong evidence against Neaf's contentions. Neaf carried an ordinary German arrest warrant filled out at Coblenz, but the signature of the officer is illegible. Judge Schlimm believes that it will be difficult to prove that the Americans came to Eberbach with the deliberate intention of killing Bergdoll. He thinks that Neaf shot on the spur of the moment.

In contradication to the first official and also newspaper accounts, the first shot didn't strike the automobile tires. This would have been an impossibility, because Neaf had one foot on Bergdoll's car running-board when he fired and was within two feet of Bergdoll, who ducked and so escaped.

The indictment has not yet been drawn up but instead of a charge of murder. The judge predicts that both Americans and their German confederates will be indicated on a charge of forcible abduction.

62 BILLION GOLD DOLLARS SUM GERMANY HAS TO PAY

Decision Is Reached On All Points By Paris Conference

PROTECT FRANCE

Allies Now Committed To Her Policies—Briand Victor

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 30.—The amount of the reparations payable by Germany in the next 42 years is £11,300,000,000, of which Great Britain is to receive £2,486,000,000, France £5,876,000,000 and the other Allies, £2,938,000,000. This is exclusive of revenue from the export tax imposed, which the Paris papers estimate will in a few years produce one hundred millions sterling annually.

(Note: Including the export tax, the indemnity referred to above, amounts to £15,000,000,000, or 62 billion gold dollars, figured at $4 gold to the pound sterling).

Paris, Jan. 29 (noon).—The Conference met this morning. The better atmosphere prevailing is reflected in the French press comments which describes yesterday as a historic day, inaugurating the peaceful reconstructon of Europe.

Mr. Lloyd George pointed out that a tax on Germany's exports was not provided for in the Treaty of Versailles, and was a commercial reprisal, which it had been decided to abolish, but a private interview between Mr. Lloyd George and M. Briand cleared up the situation. At the same time, the Belgian delegates helped to complete the Anglo-French rapprochement by offering largely to renounce Belgium's priority in the matter of reparations in favor of France.

FORTY-TWO PAYMENTS

Mr. Lloyd George, according to the Matin, also urged the adoption of the principle of thirty-two annual payments, but eventually conceded that of forty-two.

The Matin describes M. Briand as saying early this morning, "There is no longer any risk of a starving France being confronted by a rich and prosperous Germany."

The Figaro, Oeuvre and Eclair congratulate M. Briand on 'emerging from the battle with colors flying.'

Later: (2 p.m.).—The Conference this morning approved the terms of German reparations. It fixed the annuities payable by Germany over a period of forty-two years, as follows:

2,000,000,000 gold marks a year for two years;
3,000,000,000 gold marks a year for three years;
4,000,000,000 gold marks a year for three years;
5,000,000,000 gold marks a year for three years; and
6,000,000,000 gold marks a year for the remaining 31 years.

TAX ON EXPORTS

Moreover, throughout the whole period of forty-two years, Germany must pay a 12½ percent ad valorem tax on exports.

The Germans, after receiving the terms, will be invited to a conference to be held in London on February 28.

Later: (5 p.m.).—The disarmament agreement was signed by the conference this afternoon.

Later: (8 p.m.).—The Conference has come to a conclusion in the most cheerful and harmonious spirit. All the agreements were finally signed without difficulty.

The penalties for non-fulfilment, such as Allied occupation of the Ruhr valley and prolongation of the Allied occupation of the Rhine, apply equally to disarmament and reparations. The penalties will not be communicated officially to Germany, in the hope that she will voluntarily fulfil her obligations.

The French are particularly pleased with the results achieved by the Conference.

NO FOREIGN LOANS

Paris, Jan. 29 (10 p.m.).—In addition to the reparations terms already cabled, Havas learns that today's settlement includes the following:

(1). If Germany pays the annual instalments in advance of the appointed time, she will be entitled to a discount of 8 percent on the first two annual instalments, 6 percent on the next two, and 5 percent on the remaining thirty-eight.

(2). Germany is prohibited from issuing foreign loans without the consent of the Reparations Commission.

(3). In the event of non-fulfilment of the reparations terms, the following penalties may be exacted:

(a) Seizure of German customs;

(b) Imposition of higher taxes or new taxes;

(c) Adoption of such other measures as the Allies deem expedient.

As regards disarmament, today's agreement allows Germany periods of grace for execution, which vary according to the different measures concerned, but the maximum period of extension is until July 1 next.

PENALTIES FOR FAILURE

The penalties for the non-fulfilment of the disarmament terms are:

(a) Cancellation of the dates fixed for Allied evacuation of the Rhine country;

(b) Occupation of further territories;

(c) Establishment of Allied customs in the Rhine country;

(d) Opposition to Germany's entry into the League of Nations.

Paris, Jan. 30.—As the outcome of the Conference, the most definite instructions in regard to disarmaments are immediately being forwarded to the German Government. These lay down the obligation to reduce the number of regular officers employed by the War Ministry by April 15.

The handing over of material in accordance with previous instructions, is to be completed by February 28. The dissolution of the Home Defence organisations must be begun before March 15, and concluded before June 30. There must be a complete dismantlement of reserve ships by April 30. All submarines and submarine parts are to be destroyed immediately, and all warships at present under construction by July 31 finally. Compensation must be paid for Zeppelins destroyed after the ratification of the Treaty.

SETTLE AUSTRIAN QUESTION

As regards reparations, it is stipulated that all revenues from export and import duties must pass through the hands of a German Receiver of General Customs approved by the Reparations Commission.

A settlement of the Austrian question was achieved by the Allied agreeing to forego certain debts, chiefly in respect of reparations and the cost of the army of occupation, thus facilitating Austria's obtaining financial assistance through private channels.

The Conference also decided to hold an early conference in the neighborhood of Trieste, to which all new States will be invited, with a view to an improvement of their mutual relations and the co-ordination of their policy.

It was furthermore resolved to appoint a commission to investigate the administration of Austria, with a view to effecting economy and improvements.

GERMANY NOT IN LEAGUE

At the conclusion of the Conference M. Briand and Mr. Lloyd George emerged smiling. The former, in the course of a statement, paid tribute to the conciliatory disposition shown by M. Jaspar, the Belgian Foreign Minister, and Mr. Lloyd George. He evidenced his pleasure at the solution arrived at, which, he said happily reconciled the immediate fixing of Germany's debt and the eventual possibilities of her increased capacity to pay. He pointed out that the export tax would on the present basis yield over a thousand million marks, and subsequently 3,500,000,000 marks, in the probable event of Germany's exports reaching thirty thousand millions.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that he had seldom seen a conference break up in such harmony. They did not wish to humiliate Germany, he said, and had avoided anything likely to offend her, but the Allies had to secure what was owing to them. At the request of Lord Curzon a moral penalty had been included, namely the non-admission of Germany to the League of Nations. Great Britain, Mr. Lloyd George added, had promised not to capitalise her share of the indemnity for five years, in order to avoid competition with French loans.

DELIVER NEGOTIABLE BONDS

Paris, Jan. 29.—The German reparations terms finally agreed upon by the Inter-Allied Conference today are identical with those proposed by the Committee of Experts (after its midnight sitting last night) with the exception of one amendment, which was adopted at the suggestion of M. Loucheur, French Minister of Liberated Regions and Reparations. This provides that Germany shall deliver to the Allies negotiable bonds corresponding to the various annual payments.

With regard to the disarmament agreement, it is understood that a certain grace will be granted to Germany, while the German Government will be required to secure the passage by the Reichstag of certain legislative enactments on the subject of disarmament.

M. Briand received representatives of the press after the conclusion of, the Conference. The Premier emphasised the extreme cordiality which had prevailed among the representatives of the Allied Governments during the sittings of the Conference.

Last night, Mr. Lloyd George gave an informal dinner party in honor of Marshal Foch. The guests included Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson and General Weygand.

OPINION IN BRITAIN

London, January 31.—British opinion, while less triumphant than French, is generally satisfied with the results achieved by the Paris Conference, chiefly on the ground that the decision reached seals Anglo-French solidarity and promises to end the uncertainty which has been hampering reconstruction in Europe since the armistice. If doubts are expressed of the practicability of legislating for posterity, it is, on the other hand, pointed out that Saturday's agreement imposes on the parties to it a joint enterprise which necessitates their unbroken co-operation for half a century, while the burden on Germany is not so crushing, even at the outset, as the colossal figures at first sight suggest.

Even for the twelfth and subsequent annual instalments a tax of five pounds per head will suffice for payment, and the British tax payer is at persent paying five times this amount.

The agreement, furthermore, probably assures the stability of M. Briand's Ministry. Whether France will be able immediately to raise the money she cryingly needs on the huge credits she has been awarded against Germany will be the chief subject of deliberation at the Allied Conference which is to be held in London on February 28.

There is some criticism of the tax on exports on the ground that its yield is purely speculative, but it is pointed out on the other hand that it will furnish the Allies with a motive for encouraging Germany's reasonable industrial expansion.

Berlin, Jan. 30.—The reparation terms have angered the German press, which is unanimous in declaring that Germany cannot pay.

London, Jan. 30.—Mr. Lloyd George returned to London today from Paris.

BRITISH DELEGATES RETURN

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 30.—Following upon the dispersal of the Allied Conference, Lord Curzon has left Paris for Nice, and Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson for Biarritz. The other British delegates accompanied Mr. Lloyd George on his return to London.

Count Sporza, the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, before returning to Italy, paid a formal visit this morning to the Elysee, where he had a very cordial interview with President Millerand.

Paris, Jan. 30.—At a meeting held at Dorpat on Thursday to celebrate the recognition of Esthonia by the Inter-Allied Conference in Paris, a resolution was adopted, expressing profound gratitude for the support which the Allies have given to Esthonia in its struggle for independence. The meeting was attended by the Municipal Council, members of the University, the military authorities and representatives of employers' and workmen's organisations.

DEFER SURTAX QUESTION

Paris, January 30.—M. Jaspar, the Belgian Foreign Minister, informed a special correspondent of the Libre Belgiue that during his visit to Paris for the Inter-Allied Conference, he had discussed with M. Briand the present situation in regard to the relations between France and Belgium. President and M. Briand, had, he said, listened with great interest to his statement of Belgium's desiderata, and expressed themselves as desirous of smoothing out all difficulties.

On his return to Brussels, M. Jaspar will go into all outstanding questions between the two countries with the French Ambassador. The Minister added that M. Briand, speaking on the question of surtaxes, expressed the desire that the proposed entente should be deferred for a short while.

Daung Pah-kwei at the time of his arrest was merely charged with the larceny of certain goods belonging to Sz Dau-daung, the watchman of whose godown he had beguiled into giving him casual assess and egress thereto.

When the police had shroffed him thoroughly, however, they identified him with a party who had been convicted some five times previously in the Mixed Court, had once been ordered to remain permanently out of the Settlement and had left a lot of damning fingerprints about after negotiating a burglary in a house on Haskell Road in 1917.

Daung cheerfully admitted everything except the last indictment. As for that, he told the Court, it was so long ago that he couldn't remember if he had committed the robbery or not.

Daung's activities for the next twelvemonth will not be so diversified as to put any great tax on his memory in the long years hereafter which he will—presumably—spend outside our city's bounds.

"WHEN A MAN'S MARRIED"—

A Sikh policeman engaged in patrolling the Broadway in the very early morning hours of Sunday was interrupted in his activities by the clatter of hoofs on the pavement and opened an eye in time to see a dark mass ooze out of the gloom. With a majestic mave of his nightstick he commanded the thing to halt and discovered it to be a carriage cruising about with neither port nor starboard light; which is against the local regulations. A more careful inspection revealed the fact that, besides Mafoo Nyen Sung-dzung who was perched upon the box, the vehicle was carrying three full grown men, three women and two children, with an assistant mafoo thrown in for ballast. Which is also against the regulations, the prescribed load for such craft being five persons.

Mafoo Nyen touching upon the matter of the lights, told the Magistrate that the wind had blown them out and as it was almost daylight he hadn't relighted them. As for the cargo, he had just taken a new wife and the throng to which the policeman had taken exception had just stepped into the vehicle to have a look at her. Nyen then paid his $3 and departed.

What MILTON is and what it DOES

You have nothing to-day with which to compare Milton. It is not a "cure all," yet in one bottle of Milton you obtain an article which will perform more than 101 every-day services—services for which you to-day buy a dozen or more different preparations. Milton does every one of these thoroughly, reliably, quickly. To be able to perform so many widely varying services, Milton must, of course, be a powerful fluid. It is powerful. But (and this is perhaps its most astonishing feature) it is absolutely harmless, perfectly safe. It can be used freely, or the bottle may be left standing about without the least anxiety. For Milton, although it is so powerful and effective, is non-poisonous; it will not burn or stain the hands or skin; it will not take fire or explode; it is clear and clean; and what little smell it has disappears almost immediately after use. Among the many uses of Milton are—

For preventing cold in the head, influenza and winter ailments.
For destroying bad smells.
For removing stains without injury even to the most delicate fabrics.
For use as a mouth wash, dentifrice and nasal douche.
For freshening the air after tobacco smoke.
For eliminating all vermin.

This sounds almost unbelievable, but a trial very quickly convinces. And isn't it worth trying? If in one bottle you can have a safe, harmless but powerful fluid which can be of service to you in so many different ways, can you afford to be without it? The cost is so small to become convinced. An a bottle lasts a long time—it is economical. Get a bottle to-day. You will be astonished at the results.

SOLD IN 2 SIZES—8 OUNCES and 20 OUNCES — EACH MAKES GALLONS. Take MILTON in your house. Get it of your Chemist or Grocer. If he does not stock MILTON write Probst, Hanbury & Co., Ltd., 10 Nanking Road, Shanghai.

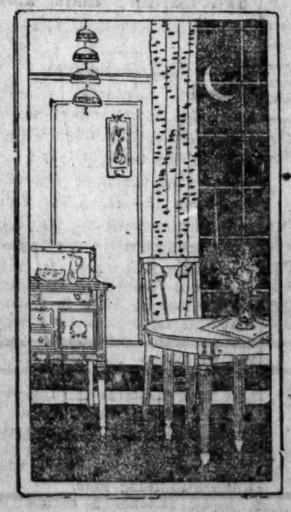
The Stately Homes of England



Have you ever wandered through one of these old Elizabethan Manors, of which England is so proud? Did you notice the black, lustrous panelling, doors and stairs? Did it not strike you as curious that the wooden beams in the outhouses had outlasted the stone of which the walls were built? The colour of the wood made you curious to know what stain had been used on it? "Time" imparted that wonderful tone to the wood, and all the base counterfeiters of the craftsmanship of a bygone age have never succeeded in producing an imitation which would deceive a babe. The Wood was Oak, the wood which we suggest you should use for your new floor or panelling.

WE SUPPLY OAK FOR FLOORING, WAINSCOTING, PANELLING, ETC., ETC., KILN-DRIED AND QUALITY GUARANTEED

We give all orders personal attention. After you have placed your order with us, the flooring will be laid and all work carried out under the personal supervision of a foreign expert of the Company. This supervision costs you nothing and we prefer to do this for you.

Insist that all lumber for flooring and panelling for interior work bears the "Three Pines" Trade Mark, and the letters "KD" signifying kiln-dried, thus ensuring its perfect quality, and suitability for the severe climatic conditions of China.

Russian Soviet At Moscow Sends Treaty To Peking

the former Tsarist Governments, and in which it also intimated its readiness to conduct formal negotiations with the representatives of Your Government with a view to the early restoration of our traditional friendship.

So far as we know, this declaration reached you long ago; and we are also certain that it was well received, as the different classes among your people have since then been urging Your Government to open negotiations with us at once. Now we are again honored with the presence of a Mission from Your Government, which is headed by Major-General Chang Sze-ling, we hope that after discussing with Major-General Chang we can arrive at a mutual understanding and realise the close relationship that has always exists between our two countries. We firmly believe, that between the two countries, there is no question which does not admit of an amicable settlement and that the solution of our common problems will accrue to our mutual benefit.

The enemies of our two races, however, fearing that our union would mean the end of the present era, in which they can bully and brow-beat your people with impunity, are leaving no stone unturned to prevent our getting together. This state of things we fully realise. But now that your representatives have arrived in Russia and has seen and heard with his own eyes and ears he can surely testify to the sincerity of our intentions toward China. On acount, however, of lack of proper instructions from his home Government he has not yet been able to proceed with the discussion of any serious subject, with the result that many of the important commercial and political questions between our two countries remain unsettled, to the great regret of this Board. Now, for the purpose of promoting friendship and peace between the two countries, we reaffirm the following:

PROPOSE CONDITIONS

We still adhere to the principles enunciated in the declaration of July 25, 1919, and recognise them not only as the basis for our future treaty, but also as being esseniati to the promotion of permanent peace and everlasting friendship between the two countries. Now we propose to Your Government the following conditions, which we trust, can be embodied in a treaty between China and Russia.

1.—That the Soviet Government engages itself to renounce all treaties concluded between the former Imperial Governments and China, and to make unconditional return to China of all the rights, concessions and leased territories acquired either by Russian capitalists or by the Tsarist Governments in Chian.

2.—That the two republics shall endeavor, as far as is possible, to restore their former economic and comercial erlations, and shall forthwith conclude a special treaty upn the basis of the most-favored-nation principle.

3.—That the Chinese Government shall engage itself to render no support to anti-revolutionary persons or organisations and, further, to prevent them from using Chinese territory as bases pf operations against the Soviet Government.

After this treaty is signed, the Chinese Government shall see to it that all anti-revolutionary persons or organisations that are found in Chinese territory plotting against the safety of the Soviet Republic shall be disarmed and internend with a view to their ultimate surrender to the proper authority of the Soviet Government.

The Soviet Government shall undertake the same duty in case of any Chinese individuals or organisation that are found plotting in Russian territory against the safety of the Chinese Republic.

4.—That all Russians residing in China shall be subject to Chinese laws and such regulations as the Chinese Government may promulgate from time to time. The same shall apply to Chinese residents in Russia.

5.—That on and after the day when this treaty is signed the Chinese Government shall sever relations, with and expel, all those self-constituted Russian diplomatic and consular officers of the former Imperial Government who have not been recognised by the Soviet Government. Again, all the consular buildings and the Russian Legation in Peking, and the properties and archives found therein, shall be delivered over to the Soviet Government.

SURRENDERS INDEMNITY

6.—That the Soviet Government engages itself to renounce all claims to the Russian portion of the Boxer Indemnity, but at the same time the Chinese Government shall engage itself not to use the same to support any officers of the former Imperial Government, or other anti-revolutionary persons or organisations.

7.—That after this treaty is signed each party to it shall engage itself to send diplomatic and consular officers to the other at once.

8.—That China and the Soviet Government shall agree to negotiate a special arrangement providing for the use of the Chinese Eastern Railway by the latter and that, when this agreement is made, the Far Eastern Republic shall also be a party to it.

The above eight conditions the Board of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Republic recognises as being the essential stipulations of a futuer treaty; and it will be glad to discuss them sincerely and frankly with the representatives of Your Government.

If the Chinese Government thinks it necessary they may be modified. It is, however, the opinion of the Board of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Republic that these relations between the two countries which are of such a complicated nature as not to admit of their satisfactory inclusion within these eight articles: particularly such questions as the regulations of customs duties, railways and so forth, can be settled later between delegates appointed by the two countries to conclude special treaties. Finally, inasmuch as we are making our best efforts for the promotion of the closest friendship between the two peoles, we likewise expect that Your Government will favor us with a prompt and sincere reply at its earliest convenience, so that a treaty of friendship may be concluded in the not distant future.

(Signed) Karshan
Acting Commissary of Foreign Affairs.

Mrs. Egan will visit all parts of the famine district and remain as long as she thinks necessary to make a thorough survey of the conditions there. Mrs. Egan is the wife of Mr. Martin Egan formerly editor of the Manila Times and at present connected with the J. P. Morgan and Company.

The Life of Concrete Floors Is No Longer In Nature's Hands

A New Scientific Discovery

In the past concrete floors were left to nature once they were laid. Constant walking, heavy trucking and daily usage soon broke the surface and resulted in holes and cracks. Crystalline particles of dust floated into the air, and ground out the delicate bearings of machinery.

These conditions seemed impossible to overcome until science developed a new concrete hardener which puts the life of concrete under human control.

By a simple process new floors can be made to any degree of hardness from that required by ordinary usage to the floors of factories and godowns subject to the severest kind of wear. Almost overnight your present concrete floors can be totally reformed. Then, floors can be made to "set" even in the coldest weather.

All these are made possible by the

BERLIN NIGHT LIFE IS ONE LONG ORGY, WRITER REPORTS

Says Wholesale Debauchery Must Prejudice Allies' Sympathy For Germany

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 29.—Night life in Berlin is assuming startling proportions, according to M. Marc Henry, writing in the Eclair.

"Berlin, the capital of a conquered race, is indulging in an orgy of dissipation," says M. Henry. "This is what strikes foreigners the moment they arrive. Theaters, music halls, haunts of pleasure, are always packed. Every day the Independent Socialist press publishes details of the debuchery going on in the various night resorts, which tell their own tale.

"Whether the explanation is that those who are responsible for the war are trying to drown their remorse in oblivion, is open to doubt. But whatever the reason, such indulgence in wild dissipation will not help the Germans to gain the pity of the Allies for their alleged distress, or to win their confidence. Only a well-poised, frugal, industrious Germany, manifesting a sincere desire to make good the damage she has done, and proving her capacity to resist evil influences of every description, could hope to resume her place in Europe which the madness of her masters and her own overbearing self-satisfaction have lost for her."

Japan Seeks Favor In Chita Parliament

Eastern Republic by a circuitous route, China will be compelled, for the sake of the preservation of her trade, to open that door without the benefits of bargaining, and will merely have attained for herself second place in the commercial relations of the Russian people. The opportunity to take the first place is hers, but a more agile diplomacy is necessary if she is not to fall behind her cunning island neighbor.

CHINA'S POSITION

The Chinese Foreign Office, it is to be believed, appreciates the situation, but is rather nonplussed as to how to deal with it. However, in event the expected Japanese delegation proceeds to Chita to attend the inauguration of the parliamentary government, it is likely that China will be in some way also represented at the scene.

China always has this in her favor, that, although many of her people are being mistreated in Siberia (this situation, by the way, is largely beyond the control of the Chita government who would, for diplomatic reasons prevent it if they could) she holds a position in the estimation of the Russian people unreachable by Japan, and the Russians, the most sentimental of all races, will go far to deal with those whom they like in preference to those whom they hate.

There are no springs to break. 12. The design of the escapement reduces friction to the minimum. 13. The clock itself is its own driving power. 14. It shows at a glance when it needs winding. 15. The driving force is constant. 16. The design lends itself to new varieties of artistic treatment. 17. It requires no oil. 18. OLYMPICS MAY INCLUDE OPEN MEET

Far Eastern Championship Games Offer Opportunity For Foreign Competition

INTERPORT SERIES LIKELY

Hongkong, China, Philippines And Japan Could Have Representations

With the dates set for the Far Eastern Championships — the Olympic games of the Orient—it behooves the China Committee to start a movement for an open athletic meet in which foreigners of all nationalities would take part. This meet could be held in conjunction with the Far Eastern Games and championships awarded.

Hongkong, Japan, China and the Philippines have athletic talent galore, particularly among the British and American communities. And China perhaps leads the others for there are many American college athletes in this country either in commercial or missionary work, who were stars during their undergraduate careers.

The writer has had letters from several in China requesting information as to the possibilities of an open meet and the athletic director at Tsingtao University Academy states that he has several likely looking men there who might make a showing in track and field events.

INTERPORT SERIES POSSIBLE

Interport series could easily be arranged for golf, rugby football, soccer football, cricket and perhaps hockey. Tientsin, Peking, Hongkong and Hankow would probably be glad to send teams to meet Shanghai and there is even the possibility that Manila could send golf players to an open championship tournament.

A polo tourney, even, is not impossible. Manila has attempted several times to get a Shanghai team to the Philippines for games against the Army and civilian teams there, and Hongkong, Tientsin and Hankow could send polo players. One objection to Manila players would be the China ponies for they are accustomed to play on American Army or Australian horses at the Manila Polo Club.

MUST ACT PROMPTLY

A track and field meet and a swimming meet are easily possible but action must be taken in short order. Less than four months remain before the games start—they are scheduled from May 30 to June 4, inclusive—and it takes time to get letters out, receive replies and make arrangements.

If suggestions are in order, we submit the following:

1.—Let the China Committee meet with representative sporting Clubs and if possible secure their co-operation.

2.—Let the Club which is a leader in its own sport undertake the management of a series in which it is interested.

INTEREST FOREIGNERS

An open meet would do much to interest foreigners in the native China representation. In the Philippines it has proved successful although not held directly in connection with the Far Eastern championships.

The big open meet of the year at Manila comes during the Philippine Carnival in February. Then Filipinos compete with Americans, British and other nationals. The foreigners in the Philippines become interested and when the Far Eastern Championships were held at Manila a year ago last May the foreigners were as keen on the games as the natives.

The games beginning Memorial Day will be the greatest in the history of the Far East. They will also mark a step forward in Far Eastern athletics for they are to be sanctioned and authorised by the International Olympic Association.

Dr. J. H. Gray, honorary secretary of the China Committee, will act as the International Olympic Committee in the actual conduct of the Far Eastern Games and the I. O. C. will send its own delegate here for the championships.

Sam Rice Of Senators Sets Major League Mark, Accepting 478 Chances

Establishes Highest Record Ever Reached In Big Baseball Show; Made 454 Put Outs And 24 Assists For Average Of 960

An all-star team of American Leaguers, picked from the standpoint of the official fielding averages alone, would consist of: McInnis, first base; Eddie Collins, second base; Scott, short stop; Gardner, third base; Strunk, Felsch and Jacobson in the outfield, Schalk behind the bat and Mays in the pitching box. All these players except Mays were the fielding leaders in their positions among players taking part in 100 or more games. Mays, who took part in 45 games during the season, handled 125 chances and made but a single error, thereby qualifying as the leader among the pitchers who did any great amount of work. The high light in fielding, however, was furnished by Sam Rice of the Senators, who set a new major league record for chances accepted, 478.

MAKES NEW RECORD

When Sam Rice accepted 478 chances—454 put outs and 24 assists—for an average of .960, he established a new major league record. The nearest approach to this phenomenal performance is: Max Carey, Pittsburgh, 468, 1917; Oscar Felsch, Chicago, 464, 1917, and Tris Speaker, Boston, 455, 1914. This season Rice is far in advance of his nearest rival, William Jacobson, St. Louis, who handled 394 put outs and 18 assists. Felsch, Chicago, is third with 385 put outs and 25 assists and leads in percentage with an average of .981, being charged with but 8 errors.

BOSTON IN LEAD

Boston led the clubs in fielding with a mark of .972. Cleveland was second with .971 and New York third with .969. The figures for the other clubs were as follows: Chicago .968, Detroit .964, St. Louis .963, Washington .963, Philadelphia .959. The White Sox led in double plays, and both Boston and Philadelphia made triple plays during the season. The Red Sox led in number of outputs, while the Mackmen showed the way in both assists and errors. Boston had the low mark in errors, 183.

JACK DEMPSEY NO MAN EATER, BRENNAN SHOWS

Next Opponent Of World Champion Will Enter Ring With Confidence

CARPENTIER STOCK BOOSTS

French Boxer Is Fast And Hard Hitter Who Should Worry Title Holder

BY GRANTLAND RICE

Jack Dempsey's crown is still on top of a champion's head, but quite a bit of his man-eating glory faded out with the smoke of Madison Square Garden. It may be that entirely too much was expected of the champion, and that no one man could be counted upon to maintain the terrific pace he had set for the last three years. His one and two round triumphs had become a matter of habit, but few habits are eternal.

There is no getting away from this one detail—Bill Brennan, just a good ordinary heavyweight without any past career to justify the label of greatness, not only carried Dempsey into the twelfth round, but held his own a greater part of the way by inflicting almost as much punishment as he received.

Brennan had been looked upon Levinsky or another Miske. In fact, Levinsky had outpointed him at their last meeting. But while the Chicago boxer was finally knocked out, the champion who stood above him was bleeding freely from mouth, nose and ear, extended to the limit.

BRENNAN SHOWED WELL

Those who saw Dempsey stop Willard and Miske with such savage suddenness could not figure Brennan lasting beyond three rounds. They recalled Dempsey's speed, the fury of his attack and the killing power of his big brown fists. And, after all, what had Brennan ever done beyond the average work of an overage heavyweight

Even those who knew the quaint uncertainty of sport in all its stages were still unable to see anything except the loser's end between the third and fifth rounds. You can imagine their amazement through the second round, when, in place of hitting the mat, Brennan was hitting Dempsey on the jaw with the champion clinching to protect himself.

The contest proved three important details, as follows:

1. That at least one heavyweight can take all Dempsey's blows and still keep going.

2. That an average heavyweight with fair boxing skill who isn't afraid to take a chance can hit the champion without much trouble.

3. That Dempsey can take quite a beating himself and keep on fighting at top speed—something for Infants and Children.

CASTORIA

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."

Order Is Due To Deficiency Under Appropriations For Q. M. Corps

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Jan. 29.—Drastic economy in army posts and camps has been ordered by the Secretary of War, Mr. Newton D. Baker in view of an impending deficiency of $94,000,000 under appropriations for the Quartermasters' Corps.

Among the retrenchments ordered are a cut of forty percent in the civilian payroll of the Quarter-master General's Department by February 15, and reduction of water transportation activities to a minimum.

Economy of fuel, clothing, and general supplies and subsistence issues has also been ordered. Practically identical orders are being sent to the Philippines, Panama and Hawaii.

Seaman Who Used Gun Committed For Trial

Vincent W. Dawson, third officer of the steamer Takada who was charged with firing a revolver at a Chinese police constable in Seward Road, was committed for trial yesterday in the British Police Court. Application for bail by his counsel, Mr. A. E. Seddon, was refused, the court intimating that he could appeal from that decision to the judge in chambers if he wished.

Mr. R. C. Faithfull appeared for the police. Magistrate King, after a short discussion, stated that the case had given him lots of trouble and he felt that he must frame a charge on the point of shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

The accused said that he would reserve his defence. Mr. King then committed him for trial.

Robber Thought Shot In Duel With Police

An armed robbery, following which one of the thieves is believed to have been wounded in a duel with a Chinese Constable, occurred Sunday evening at 1145 Mohawk Road, where four men ransacked a Chinese dwelling house, obtaining $180.

The men obtained admission to the premises after one of them had knocked and asked for a man named Dzong, living on the upper floor. They marched a man and woman living downstairs to an upstairs room and there kept them, together with four other women and a man, under guard while they searched the place. Meanwhile a broker living in a back room on the ground floor had slipped out and informed a Constable. He and another Constable were approaching the house when a man pushed by. According to the Constable this man, after being called upon twice to halt, fired a pistol. The policeman returned the fire and the man fell, but quickly regained his feet and escaped, the C. P. C. firing at him as he ran. The police are pushing the investigation.

Canton, Jan. 28.—Mr. Hin Wong has withdrawn from the editorship of the Canton Times.

he hasn't had to prove in many a fistic moon.

NOT FOR MOVIES

This combination proves that any first class heavyweight with speed and hitting power has a good chance to wrest away the million-dollar crown, or at least knock it over one ear.

What, possibly inquires the average fight reader, was the trouble with the champion? One reason advanced was that he merely made a boxing match of it for a few additional rounds to help the motion picture value. This reason doesn't hold. If Dempsey had had any such idea in his head he would have changed his mind quickly after the second round, when Brennan proved that he had a punishing wallop at hand. After being knocked half groggy he would hardly have been willing to bump into another such dangerous risk if he could have rang down the curtain. The motion picture value was a minor detail compared to the loss of his title.

Which seems reasonable enough.

Another idea advanced was that Dempsey, underrating his opponent; was overconfident and inclined to loaf until Brennan had developed confidence. But Dempsey has always taken great pride in his ability to kill 'em quick—to end the engagement with an early punch.

DEMPSEY BADLY HURT

Here's our idea: Before this Dempsey has either fought big men who were slow, clumsy and easy to hit or smaller men who were afraid to step out and give him a battle. On this occasion he met a man almost as fast who wasn't afraid to step in and exchange wallops, and the occasion thereby proved that Dempsey's greatness has been a trifle overrated. He still stands as a fast, hard hitter. He is still champion of the world. But he has shown that he is no wonderful boxer against a fairly fast man with a fairly good defense, and that his own defensive qualities are none too strong. Brennan punished him badly and the Chicago boxer has never been known as any man eater.

This engagement will at least tend to make Dempsey's next battle even more interesting. It will serve to encourage his next opponent and may also have the effect of putting a dent in his own superb confidence. It will also prove that a fast, hard hitter—such as Carpentier is—will have a better chance, and that a man like Wills will have a first class chance to get away with a winning blow.

Mrs. Napoleon Lambert, of St. Ignace, Quebec, writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine for childhood ailments and I am well pleased with them."

"LIGNOID"
An Ideal Flooring Material

Lignoid is a new composition, whose discovery has opened a new era in the methods of flooring and materials for structural purposes, regarding which architects and engineers have hitherto made so much study and effort. It contains in itself all the merits of such flooring materials as wood, tiles, asphalt, concrete, marble, linoleum, mosaic or tenazzo, and is far superior to them as regards its suitability, which is really ideal, for flooring purposes. The following are its special features:

(1) Character: The principal ingredient of Lignoid being an inorganic substance and contaning certain chemical admixtures, it is non-corrosive and insoluble.
(2) It is incombustible and insulating and remarkably waterproof.
(3) It makes up, when installed, a solid floor with a fine appearance and being quite free from any tendency to corrision and abrasion, its durability is permanent.
(4) It well withstands heat and cold, and it is remarkably free from the tendency to crack.
(5) It is dust-proof.
(6) Being light and elastic it makes walking pleasant, and gives no sound.
(7) As it adheres firmly to wood, concrete, stone and iron, it never bulges as is the case with linoleum.
(8) No matter how great the space may be on which it is to be need, it can be installed without using any joins.
(9) Its installation is easily carried out by a plasterer.
(10) Cleaning and repairing can be done easily.
(11) Its price is moderate.

No matter how spacious the office, saloon, dining-room, corridor, venandah, etc., it can be put down without any joins. For wainscoting entrance, corriders, bathrooms, laboratories, etc., it is admirable.

New Forces from Old Sources

Fire and water are the sources of energy which have raised civilization out of barbarism and savagery.

For generations man used them clumsily through machinery that was expensive to operate, limited in capacity and extremely local in application. Today we are entering upon a new age of greater achievement because we have learned to translate natural resources into a more efficient, economical and convenient form of energy—Electricity.

For Electricity can be generated at a low cost, transported to greater distances, transformed at will into light, heat and power.

Herein is one of the great contributions to civilization of the Westinghouse organization in that it did not confine its activities to the designing of apparatus for the use of electricity alone. It went back of the current to the primal source—that power might be more widely distributed.

Westinghouse Electric was the first to turn the power of Niagara Falls to man's advantage. Westinghouse turbine-generators in Central Stations the alternating form of current ore economically and turn it intoand Power Plants utilize steam m which, largely through Westinghouse engineers, has made possible the wide distribution of light, heat and power.

Chempedak Rubber And Gambier Estate

The annual general meeting of the Chempedak Rubber and Gambier Estate, Ltd., took place yesterday at the office of its secretaries and general managers, Messrs. J. A. Wattie and Co., Ltd. Mr. A. J. Welch presided and was supported by Messrs. W. S. Jackson and W. B. O. Middleton, directors and C. J. L. Stewart, secretary. The total number of shares represented was 3,955.

After the reading of the notice of the meeting, the chairman said:

"When I addressed you last year, it was my painful task to deplore the death of Mr. C. W. Wrightson; this year I have again the unpleasant duty of expressing the deep regret of the board at the death of their colleague, Mr. Osborne.

"Mr. Osborne had not been a member of the board for very long, but during his tenure of office he always took the keenest interest in the affairs of the company and the loss of his services and advice is keenly felt by those of us who remain. For reasons of economy it is not proposed to fill his seat on the board for the time being.

"To turn to the formal business of the meeting: as you have had several days in which to peruse the directors' report and statement of accounts, I will assume that I have your permission to take them as read; but I will read to you the auditors' report which is as follows:

"We have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. The above balance sheet, which is in accordance with the books, accounts and vouchers in Shanghai, and the audited accounts received from the Malacca Agents, is, in our opinion, properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the company's affairs at October 31, 1920, according to the best of our information and the explanations given us and as shown by the books of the company"

Lowe, Bingham & Matthews.

Shanghai, Jan. 11, 1921.

LOSS OF TLS. 2,595.52

"The accounts are presented in the usual form and it has been the aim of your directors to give as much information therein as possible so that there remains very little for me to say.

"The result of the year's working, as you have seen from the accounts, has been a loss of Tls. 2,595.52. In this connection I must point out that, during the latter part of the year, owing to a stagnant market and congestion at the docks in London, it was extremely difficult to dispose of rubber, so that stocks accumulated to an abnormal extent and approximately one half of the year's output was unsold at the end of the year. For the purpose of the accounts, this stock was valued at 30 Straits cents per pound for 1st qualities and 20 cents per pound for inferiors. The prices ruling at the present time, I am glad to say, are considerably above this figure. Had we taken the current prices for valuing our Stock, the result would have been that the year's working would have shown very little loss, if any.

"You will no doubt have noticed that in the balance sheet the drafts against Shipments appear as Tls. 21,870.97, whereas the stock of rubber is only valued at Tls. 9,530.15. The position is not really nearly as bad as would appear from these figures as the stock of rubber in London has only to realise a trifle over 1s. 6d. per pound to cover the amount of the drafts drawn against shipments.

RUBBER VALUE LOW

"Apart from the low valuation placed upon the stock of rubber, another cause contributing to the loss for the year and to the high F.O.B. cost, is the fact that the manager went on a well earned furlough, and that as he returned to his duties on the estate before the end of the financial year, the cost of his passage to and from Europe, as well as his pay whilst on leave and the pay of the acting manager during his absence had all to be borne by the one year's accounts instead of being spread over two years as is usual, in addition to this, the accounts have been debited with provision for the proper proportion of leave pay and passage money due to Mr. Laing for the 15 months during which he has been in the service of the Company, and, further, the percentage of these charges charged to revenue has been increased to 91 percent instead of the 85 percent charged last year, thus further increasing the F. O. B. cost.

AGENT SATISFIED

"The visiting agent in his last report states that he is very well satisfied with the estate, which is in excellent condition, and that, thanks to the progress made in various works during the year under review, the cost of upkeep should be low in future.

"Loss on rice was again a heavy item, an actual loss of $7,717.82 being incurred by the estate. Of this sum, $4,261.54 appears under this heading, and the balance, representing the loss since July 1, is distributed proportionately over the various field works.

"As regards pests and diseases, the estate is reported to be actually exceptionally free from either, although the number of trees lost during the year would appear to belie this statement. The losses from fomes, which is a preventable disease, occurred in the previously infected area and as thorough steps have been taken towards eradication, further losses should be small.

LABOR IMPROVING

"Labor conditions were better than they have ever been, and with the present surplus of labor in the straits we do not anticipate any trouble during the coming year.

"In view of the prevailing acute depression in the rubber industry, you will naturally expect me to tell you what steps the board have taken to effect economies and to carry on the estate until normal times return.

"The first thing we did was to dispense with the most expensive type of labor, that is to say the Chinese, and then we decided to rest certain areas and to put the balance of the estate on to alternate day tapping, which work could be handled by the Tamil coolie that remained. The result of this action, I regret to say is that the services of the assistant, Mr. Laing, who has served the Estate well and loyally for the past year and a half, will no longer be required. Your Straits Agents are endeavoring to find him another billet, failing which he will be offered a passage home, instead of the three months' pay to which he is entitled under his agreement, as it does not seem to the board fair to turn a man adrift in a tropical country where unemployment is so universal. A consequence of this action is that the new bungalow, just erected, is superfluous and your directors are now consulting with the Agents as to what use, if any, it can be put to.

NOT TO STOP TAPPING

"There is a strong feeling amongst many people that the proper means of overcoming the prevailing surfeit of rubber is to stop production entirely for several months, and to my mind there is no doubt that this would be the best thing to do, if it was feasible, since the capital of a rubber company is represented by the amount of tappable bark on its trees, and every time a piece of bark is removed by tapping so much capital is expended. A tree even 6 feet in circumference is valueless if the bark has been damaged to such an extent that there is no suitable tapping surface.

"Unfortunately, the question of finance comes in, and there is no golden rule that can be followed by all and sundry. For a company in the financial position of Chempedak, your directors consider it their duty to endeavor to run the estate at the minimum monthly loss, so that when better times come the total indebtedness will be as small as possible. For instance, if we assume that our rubber is costing us 22 cents per pound for tapping, manufacture, packing and forwarding and we sell it for 35 cents per pound, we receive a profit of 13 cents per pound which helps to pay for salaries and the weeding and cultivation of the estate.

"The expense of weeding and the cost of a certain amount of foreign supervision must go on whether we tap or not and we have found, after careful examination that the monthly deficit is less if we exercise every economy and tap on a modified scale than if we ceased producing altogether. The question is one of extreme difficulty, since it is impossible to form any opinion as to how long the prevailing depression is going to last. If one could name a definite period when prices would recover, it would be a simple matter to calculate whether a reduction of output or a complete cessation of tapping would be the more economical course in the long run.

MAY ALTER POLICY

"We are in close communication with the agents in the straits and the policy of the board may alter from time to time according to circumstances.

"As regards finance, as you are probably aware, it is extremely difficult, if not impossible for rubber companies to obtain assistance from their bankers at the present time. So far any money required by the company has been supplied by the secretaries at the current bank rate of interest, but if the company's indebtedness continues to increase it will be necessary to make other financial arrangements. This matter is also having the attention of the board.

"That is all I have to say, Gentlemen, but if any one of you has any questions to ask, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability."

No questions being asked the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

"That the directors' report and statement of accounts as presented be passed. Proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. W. S. Jackson.

"That Mr. W. S. Jackson be re-elected a director of the company. Proposed by Mr. F. N. Matthews and seconded by Mr. S. S. Nazer.

"That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be elected auditors to the company in Shanghai and Malacca for the ensuing year. Proposed by Mr. S. S. Nazer and seconded by Mr. W. B. O. Middleton.

What Germany Must Pay

THE Germans now have their bill —in full. They know all about restorations, reparations, indemnities, and disarmament. What the world, including Germany, doesn't know is, when the bill will be paid—in full. The Allies have fixed the period at 42 years. The Germans already announce that they cannot pay it within that time-limit, and they do not fix any period in which they can pay it.

The amount of the cash indemnity was the chief stumbling block encountered by the Inter-Allied Conference, from which, according to the French press, "France emerges with flying colors."

The French, we believe, were not so keen on the question of the size of the indemnity as they were on that having to do with disarmament. Taking this view of it, M. Briand must be credited with having played his cards boldly and skilfully.

He opened the proceedings by demanding, through M. Doumer, that the indemnity be fixed at 504 billion gold marks, or 126 billion gold dollars, or 31,500,000,000 pounds sterling, counting the pound at $4 gold.

He emerges "with colors flying" but with his proposed indemnity cut almost precisely in half. Including the export tax, which is estimated to yield £100,000,000 annually, the total indemnity, worked out at approximately present exchange, will be £15,500,000,000, or 62 billion gold dollars.

But in thus yielding on this question, he caused the following penalties for non-performance to be attached, and to the imposition of these penalties the Allies have given their consent. This means that France is no longer confronted with the possibility of having to "go it alone" as she threatened to do in case of Allied refusal to concur:

FOR NON-FULFILMENT OF REPARATION TERMS

(a) seizure of German customs;

(b) imposition of higher taxes or new taxes;

(c) adoption of such other measures as the Allies deem expedient.

FOR NON-FULFILMENT OF DISARMAMENT TERMS

(a) Cancellation of the date fixed for Allied evacuation of the Rhine country;

(b) occupation of further territories;

(c) establishment of Allied customs in the Rhine country;

(d) opposition to Germany's entry into the League of Nations.

Furthermore, and this is of importance, the Allies have now agreed that "Germany is prohibited from issuing foreign loans without the consent of the Reparations Commission."

We take the word "issuing" in the sense that Germany is prohibited from borrowing money abroad, although it is conceivable that the Allies may have inserted this clause with the object of preventing Germany from lending money for political effect to Austria and other neighbors whose finances are in rags.

But if our reading of the message is the right one, it means among other things, that if Germany should wish to contract a loan in the United States for, say, raw materials, she would first have to obtain the consent of the Allies, which is turn means that the United States is prohibited from establishing credits for Germany without the consent of the Allies.

The Allies, in any event, are now fully committed to the French policy towards Germany, whether or not their people are in favor of it, and to that extent at least, M. Briand has scored an overwhelming victory. France is convinced that Germany can pay the bill, she is determined that Germany shall pay it. And she has the full backing of the Allies. Germany says she can't pay it. Everybody knows that Germany doesn't want to pay it, and that, if she can see a way to escape paying it, she won't pay it. And that is the position today.

Dr. Frederick Starr To Attend Celebration By Buddhist Sect

(Japan Advertiser)

Seated on a cushion in his room at the Kino Kuni Ya in Shibaguchi, a typical Japanese hotel, with two rare prints of the ascent of Fujiyama spread on the floor before him, Dr. Frederick Starr, head of the department of anthropology of the University of Chicago and student of Japanese folk lore and ways, told of how he had returned to Japan for the tenth time at the urgent invitation of the Buddhist priests of the Hoso sect to be present in April for the celebration of the thirteen hundredth anniversary of the death of Shoto Kataisho, founder of the sect.

Doctor Starr, who landed on the Hawaii Maru, has given a course on Japan in the University of Chicago for the last quarter of a century. The course deals not only with folk lore and customs, but with politics, social conditions and other institutions that go to make up the life of modern Japan as based on the growth of centuries.

APOLOGIES FOR CLOTHES

He first came to Japan in 1904 as a special commissioneer from the Louisiana Exposition in St. Louis to make a study of the Ainu tribes of northern Japan. Since then he has spent a great deal of time here and is probably as well versed in things Japanese as any living foreigner. While in Japan Doctor Starr lives entirely according to Japanese custom. Although yesterday afternoon he was still wearing foreign clothes, he apologised by explaining that he had not had time since landing to change. His kimono and haori, bearing his own crest of a star within a circle—a play on his name—was placed ready for him to put on. He wore it last night to a dinner given in his honor by Japanese friends. "You will not see me in foreign clothes again," he said yesterday. "Some of the Japanese who met me this morning saw me in them for the first time."

The two prints that lay stretched on the matting were by Sadahide, the one Japanese artist thoroughly familiar with the great mountain through climbing and exploration of it. Although Fujiyama is prominent in the work of Hiroshige and other Japanese artists, it is the distant view that is given, while the two prints Doctor Starr had yesterday showed the stages of ascent in detail, one from Yoshida and one from Omiya. "These were brought to me as soon as I landed," he said. "I had tried to get them before, but had been unsuccessful." By his side was a great stack of ancient Japanese guide books, texts and poems, all dealing with Fujiyama, for the sacred mountain has been one of Doctor Starr's especial studies.

NOT INTERESTED IN FIRST

He has ascended it twice, once in 1917 and again in 1919, both times in the conventional garb of a Japanese pilgrim. He made the circuit around the base in 1911, and the chudo, or trip around the mountain when half way up, in 1919. The chudo is considered to be very dangerous and but few persons venture on it. Doctor Starr has also gone through the tainai, or "womb," of Fuji, on emerging from which the pilgrim is "reborn," according to a tradition. The tainai is a cave about half way up and off the beaten route. He has gone over the four main trails on his two trips.

"I do not expect to climb Fujiyama just now," he said, "Since I have covered it rather thoroughly, and mountain climbing as such does not appeal to me. It is the human aspects of the mountain that interest me, the fact that to many persons Fujiyama is a sacred mountain. I may go up May 5, when there is a special religious service on the summit in honor of the Goddess of the Mountain, Kono Hana Sakuya Hime, or Princess Who Makes the Flowers to Blossom."

Doctor Starr's Japanese guide and companion, Mr. Hambei Maebbashi, who was with him yesterday afternoon and who has accompanied him during every trip to Japan since 1910, is also a lover of Fujiyama. Through his efforts a small group of students of Waseda University attempted to climb the mountain December 26 last. When the third stage was reached they were forced to turn back because of the heavy snows, on the way down meeting a rescue party coming after them.

KOBO DAISHI A FAVORITE

The Buddhist celebration at Horiu-ji, near Nara, which begins April 11 and lasts for about a week, is the particular event that has drawn Doctor Starr back to Japan at this time. Two years ago the Hoso priests entreated him to return at that time as their especial guest. The ceremony will be performed with all of the rites observed in the Seventh Century, when the founder, Shoto Kataisho, died. Hundreds of the Hoso priests will wear silken garments such as were worn then, while the sacred dances will be performed by members of the same family who have danced at the temple near Nara for thirteen centuries.

Although Doctor Starr does not have his stay in the Empire de-

SOME NEW CRITICISM

(When we get another production here it is likely that the critics will take note of the very newest methods of criticism. Here is a sample or so that has been made fashionable owing to the Daily News (London) containing the following extract:

"There was a very large audience, big and quick witted . . .

It is to be feared that the fashion of criticising audiences, as well as actors, set in the above extract, may spread, and readers are warned of the possibility of encountering such items as the following:

The production of Hamlet last night at the Classic Theater was the least satisfactory we have ever seen. The audience, however, was large and exceedingly competent. The aim of the "gods" was particularly good, and the pit proved itself a redoubtable second. We would suggest, however, to the gentleman who aimed the dead mouse at the principal character on the stage, but hit an inoffensive critic in the front row of the stalls, that a course of "shies" at the coconuts next Bank Holiday would obviate the possibility of a recurrence of such a regrettable incident.

The match between Rashton Villa and Lanchester United, at Lanchester, on Saturday, proved disastrous to the home side, which was beaten soundly by 5 to 0. The United forwards seemed to be completely out of training and were unable to last out the time. The same cannot be said, however, of a portion of the enormous crowd which viewed the match, and we congratulate particularly the Lanchester supporter who, after being ejected from the ground in the first half for climbing the rails and upsetting a linesman, returned after half-time and engaged in a particularly interesting 5-round contest with the Villa's goalkeeper. It was generally allowed that he won on points, and the United's supporters were greatly cheered by the results. The throat and lung development of the small band of supporters of the visiting team who came to cheer their side to victory cannot be too highly commended.

The mass meeting of the International Prohibition League, held yesterday, brought together a large and very interesting audience. It was a pity that the old gentleman who proposed a vote of thanks to the Chairman from the floor of the hall should have been afflicted with that distressing complaint, hiccoughs; and it was also unfortunate that the lady supporter of the movement, who fainted during the proceedings, should have attempted to blow the froth off the glass of water which was pressed to her lips. The number of luminous noses was well above the average at such meetings, and altogether the audience presented a high level of intellectual and moral attainment. A spirited oration by Mr. Ezra K. Highram was audible at intervals.

A great crowd, smoking for the most part particularly bad cigars, assembled last night at the Holborn Stadium. There was unmistakable evidence that the occupants of the front seats had dined exceedingly well. The sprinkling of ladies in the audience stood the dense fumes of smoke remarkably well; and the cinema men, focusing on the dazzlingly-lighted ring, were objects of universal interest. The gentleman in seat number 8 in row B, who followed every point with his tongue instead of his eyes, has evidently very little idea of the difference between a "left hook" and a meat hook. Otherwise the crowd was an intelligent one.

P.S.—Perhaps we should mention that in the course of the evening a French boxer named Tarpentier beat a Yank called Bempsey in 9 rounds.

BRIGHT BITS FROM BOOKS

"One never really knows a girl or a man until one has kissed her or him. But, apart from kisses, the sheer acid test for a man as a prospective husband must be: Is he unselfish?"

"A woman can more easily forgive a man what is called unfaithfulness than perpetual grumbling, persistent neglect to open doors for her, or letting her birthday pass unnoticed."

"The weeping mothers and the general atmosphere of gulp at weddings are easily explained. The tears are tears of remorse, because, having done her best to humbug her daughter up to the scratch, the bride's mother knows the che-ild is in for it at last. This is one of the few occasions on which one woman is genuinely sorry for another."

"A woman is apt to fling up her hands in emotional troubles; a man usually has the capacity to set an example—to sit down and smoke a cigarette, and wait for brighter prospects with a sort of bitter patience. Men have been facing storms and crises longer than women, for it's only in recent times that women have really come out into the world. Men show more instinct, more savoir-faire over unexpected difficulties, simply because men have been getting themselves into hot water for countless generations. They know things are never so bad as they look; women always think things are as bad as they feel."—Letters to Felicia, by F. E. Baily.

The Two Brightest Planets And The Two Brightest Stars In All The Skies Visible Evenings This Month

By ST. ARGA ZER
(Shanghai College)

Moon's Phases for February:

New Moon: Feb. 8 8:23 a.m.
First Quarter: Feb. 16 2:39 a.m.
Full Moon: Feb. 22 5:18 p.m.

This month will be distinguished by the appearance in the evening skies of the two brightest of all the planets, Venus and Jupiter, and the two brightest of all the stars, Sirius and Canopus.

Venus is gaining in brilliancy every day. As has been explained before, her orbit around the sun is within the earth's orbit; she was almost directly in line with and behind the sun last July, and of course could not then be seen; but since then she has been apparently moving farther and farther to one side of the sun, and on the 9th of this month she will reach her greatest brilliancy. Her conjunction with the young four-day-old moon on the evening of the 12th will be a fine spectacle and must not be missed.

In the opposite side of the heavens we shall see splendid Jupiter, which as it is now nearing direct opposition to the sun will shine with its full orb upon us. On the 4th of March Jupiter will rise just as the sun sets, so from now on we shall have both the king and the queen of the planets brightening our evening skies. No stars in the sky can compare with these two planets in splendor; but there are two that come nearest to them, and all this month we shall have a fine chance to make a comparison between thesee four transplendent luminaries of the skies.

SIRIUS KING OF STARS

By far the brightest of all the fixed stars, five times as bright as Vega, Capella, Arcturus, or Rigel; throw in Procyon and Beltelgeuse, and these six stars together are scarce equal to Sirius in the light they give us. We call Sirius the brightest of the first magnitude stars, but that is really doing him an injustice for he stands in a class wholly by himself, and is actually seven times as bright as a standard first magnitude star. "It is impossible," says George P. Serviss, popular writer on the stars, "to be guilty of exaggeration in speaking of the splendid beauty of Sirius. It has a hundred moods according to the state of the atmosphere. Sometimes, when the air is still, the star burns with a steady white light, unflickering, like a core of electric fire; then, as invisible atmospheric waves flow over it, its rays spread and leap and flutter, breaking into keen prismatic darts that almost cause the eye to wince. By turns it sparkles, it glows, it blazes, it flares, it flashes, it contracts to a point of intense brilliance or expands into a coruscating spectrum." The light of Sirius is white with a shade of green, just as Vega is white with a shade of blue; and perhaps the latter is generally regarded as more pleasing to the eye. Its white color testifies that Sirius is still in an early stage of evolution as a star.

ANCIENT OBSERVATIONS OF SIRIUS

On account of the exceptional brightness of this star it has been carefully observed for a much longer time than perhaps any other star in the heavens. The ancient stargazers of China, Egypt, Chaldea, and Greece have left testimonies of their observations of this wonderful star. It was at one time thought to be very near, comparable to the planets of our solar system. But in that a mistake was made, for its distance is now known to be 500,000 times as far as the sun is from us and its light takes more than eight years to reach us. Yet that is near, as stars go; in fact, with one exception it is the nearest of all the first magnitude stars.

Because Sirius is so near and has been so carefully observed by many generations of astronomers, a most interesting discovery has been made regarding the proper motion of this star. By proper motion is meant independent motion, by which a star's apparent position changes with relation to other stars around it. Most of the stars are so far away that although they are all probably moving with tremendous speed in straight lines in all possible directions, yet as far as successive generations of men have been able to observe, the stars keep their relative positions on the celestial sphere as truly as New York or Chicago, Shanghai or London, keep their respective places on the earthly globe.

SIRIUS IS MOVING AWAY!

But with regard to Sirius it has been observed that it has moved more than two minutes of celestial longitude in the last 100 years. Now if the actual locality of Shanghai should move that much on our globe it would be considered wonderful if not disastrous. Two minutes is a small quantity indeed, and cannot be noticed with the naked eye, but we can easily see what such a motion might do in a million years. From its cross motion in space it has been calculated that in 60,000 years Sirius has moved in its majestic course from the eastern side of the Milky Way to the western side, or a distance of twenty degrees. Regarding this surmise Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox wrote the following lines, which are interesting even though we may not agree with all the implications of the author:

"Since Sirius crossed the Milky Way
Full sixty thousand years have gone,
Yet hour by hour and day by day
This tireless star speeds on and on.
"Methinks he must be moved by mirth
By that droll tale of Genesis,
Which says Creation had its birth
For such a tiny world as this.
"To hear that One who fashioned all
Those solar systems tier on tiers,
Expressed in Adam's little fall
The purpose of a million spheres!
"On planets old, ere form or place
Was lent to earth, may dwell, who knows,
A god like and perfected race
That hails great Sirius as he goes."

WHAT THE TELESCOPES TEACH US

The celebrated English astronomer Halley, who also predicted the return of the comet name after him, was the first to announce definitely to the world more than two centuries ago that Sirius has a motion with respect to fixed reference points and lines. More than a century later, Bessel, a German astronomer, sometimes called the father of modern observational astronomy, found that the motion of Sirius was not uniform, and he deduced from his observations that on the basis of the laws of motion Sirius had an unseen companion; that these were revolving around their common center of gravity, moving together in a straight line, or around some other object, somewhat like the earth and moon are moving around the sun, though on a vastly grander scale. Then in 1862 an American astronomer, Alvan G. Clark, actually discovered the suspected companion, and later our larger and more perfect instruments have revealed to us a mass of interesting information about these two companian stars. Thus the scientists of two centuries and of three countries have combined in a marvellous way in the study of this wonderful system of stars, and have unravelled the secret that had remained hidden for thousands of centuries.

FACTS ABOUT DOUBLE SIRIUS

The two components of Sirius are now known to be 1800 million miles apart, which is farther than Uranus is from the Sun, but not as far as Neptune. They complete a revolution around each other in 49 years, which is much faster tha the revolution of Uranus around the sun. The Sirius that we see is the larger one, about twice as heavy as its companion, yet it is 20,000 times brighter; so that the dark ball sustains more the relationship of a huge planet to the real Sirius, and it has been thought that at least some of its light is reflected from the brighter light. However that may be, this dark sphere is a very much bigger objeot than any planet that we know about, being easily equal to a million of our earths, and about equal to our sun. For tôgether these two stars weigh about three times as much as our sun, and notwithstanding the great handicap of the dark ball, they radiate about forty-eight times as much light as is sent out by the sun. Unfortunately the dark star does not get in the line of sight between us and Sirius, otherwise we should have the magnificent and interesting spectacle of a periodic variable star, because Sirius would be regularly eclipsed by his darker companion once in 49 years.

WHERE TO FIND SIRIUS AND CANOPUS

This article is already too long, but it remains to point out for the benefit of a few just where to locate Sirius. Nearly every one knows that bright star by sight, but for the uninstructed I would say, just follow the line made by the three stars of Orion's belt straight down to the left and Sirius will stare you in the face. Lastly we shall now only call attention to the next brightest star in all the skies, Canopus, which may easily be found as it is close to the horizon directly south of Sirius. While only one-half as bright an object to our sight as Sirius, it far surpasses every other star in the sky.

During the early part of this month at 8 p.m. Orion as represented on this map is almost straight south. The figures on the sides of the map express degrees of celestial latitude and correspond always to earthly latitude, so that if you stand on the equator the "belt of Orion" will pass directly overhead. Instead of latitude we use the term Declination, both north and south or plus and minus.

The figures at the bottom are hours and correspond to terrestial longitude. Each hour the stars move one space from left to right on the map, that is, from east to west in the sky. But since the earth rotates no point in the sky can be said to have the same longitude as a corresponding position on the earth.

False Pride

BY DR. WM. A. McKEENER
(Professor in the University of Kansas and a Well-Known Educator.)

False pride is a mean master. I have just now listened to the tale of woe of a father of three girls, aged, respectively, sixteen, twenty, and twenty-two, who are "too proud to work." Consequently they and their parents are all secretly eating the bitter bread of pinch and poverty, as follows:

Two months behind on the house rent.

Eating skimp meals three times per day.

Scarcely a grocer or other merchant who will trust them for a dollar.

The high cost of social clothes has driven them to their wits' end.

The majority of the theatergoing and even the movies have been cut off the list.

No outing or trip away from the city for the past Summer period.

About the house all is gloom and grouchiness, much moaning and groaning at what they call hard luck and ill fate.

The father's income is about ample for three, but they are trying to make it reach for five. He has given me the details of the whole wretched story and is "about ready to cash in on his life insurance."

This is a typical case and not merely an isolated one. The two older girls in this family should have been employed during the past Summer and earning from $20 to $25 per week at whatever there was available. One of them is a college senior and the other a junior.

"It would hurt their pride," the father contends. But these young women should quit school for a year and earn something toward restoring the secret self-respect of the household and to drive that miserable family skeleton away. Places are still begging for school teachers at $75 to $100 per month.

Finally, my point is that the type of family here described must be discarded. If the facts were all known, when the thin veneer of false pride is penetrated one finds little that is better than beggary. The new type of family, now slowly emerging, is one of full co-operation of all the members thereof.

Every child contributes something to its well being, in proportion to his age and opportunity. Every boy and girl is a worker and that in accordance with the best interests of his character development.

The grown-up-girl, moping idly at home, sighing for the thrills and superfinery of polite society, pettishly calling for advantages and luxuries, not one of which she has helped to earn—this delicate young leaner must be changed into a lifter.

No matter if she be a member of a family able to pay out on her false standard of living and to keep her head on the crest of the social wave, such an idle consumer is quite as much of a menace to society as the idle young man, and her days should be quickly numbered.

Among families of rich and poor "high and low" alike, let us train all our girls to be lifters, none of them leaners, and thus help to preserve the integrity of the household.

Hints For The Household

To make good tea never use water that has boiled a long time.

To remove chocolate or cocoa stains wash part affected in cold water, then pour boiling water over.

Remember that the boiler fire will often burn rubbish and dried garden refuse quite as well as it will coal.

• • •

Glass should be washed in cold water. This gives a brighter and cleaner appearance to it than when washed in warm water.

• • •

After washing lamp chimneys, try polishing them with dry salt. This gives the glass a brilliant shine and prevents it from cracking.

• • •

To tint discolored lace curtains, mix equal quantities of ordinary starch and corn starch, boil, and use in the same way as white starch.

One good way to clean glass bottles is to cut lemons in small pieces, drop into the bottle, half fill the bottle with water, and shake well.

• • •

To remove iron rust from linen or cotton goods, boil a small quantity of rhubarb and dip in that portion of the material which is spotted.

• • •

The strained butter in which onions have been fried is splendid for basting poultry, rabbits, etc. Milk added makes it mellow-flavored and tender.

• • •

Cotton-wool dipped in a little methylated spirit will effectually clean unprotected photographs without in any way destroying their polished surface.

• • •

When a knife has been used to cut onions, wipe it with a damp cloth and rub it briskly with coarse salt. The objectionable smell will then entirely disappear.

• • •

Clothes-lines should never be left out of doors when not in use; they should be carefully dried and put away, otherwise they will soil and mark the linen.

It is a good plan to boil the clothes-line occasionally, so that it shall not soil the clothes. This must be done with perfectly clean water. The rope should be kept indoors when not in use.

Economical Recipes

The following recipes are reproduced by special arrangement with Good Housekeeping.

CABBAGE ROLLS

One small cabbage, 1 pound ground steak, 1 onion, minced, 1 cupful raw rice, 1½ teaspoonful salt, 1 egg, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon.

Boil the cabbage in salted water until the leaves are soft enough to roll without breaking. Drain, and when cool enough to handle, cut the leaves into squares of about six inches. Mix the steak, rice, onion, cinnamon, salt, and egg in a mixing bowl. Put a heaping teaspoonful of the mixture on each square of cabbage and roll into rolls as nearly finger thickness as is possible. Have ready a large kettle of boiling salted water and put into it a colander or some similar device for keeping the rolls off the bbottom of the kettle, as they burn easily. Lay the rolls carefully in the kettle to cover them. Cover and boil gently for forty-five minutes or until the rice is done. Serve with drawn butter sauce. If the flavor of cinnamon is not liked, omit and add one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper.

MEXICAN LAMB STEW

One pound neck of lamb, 1 tablespoonful drippings, 2 tablespoonfuls flour, 1 onion chopped, 3 tomatoes chopped, 3 green peppers chopped, 2 quarts hot water, 1 cupful green peas, 1 cupful green corn, ½ cupful rice, 1 tablespoonful salt, 1 egg, 1 teasponful salad oil, ½ teaspoonful vinegar, ¼ teaspoonful pepper.

Roll the lamb cut in small pieces in the flour, brown in the drippings with the union, add the tomatoes and green peppers, fry all together for a few minutes, then add the hot water, salt and pepper, and simmer for about one hour. Add the peacs, corn cut from the cob, and the rice. Cook until the rice is done. When ready to serve put in the bottom of the serving dish the egg mixed with the oil and vinegar. Pour the stew over this.

SUMMER EXPERIENCE

"When water becomes ice," asked the teacher, "what is the great change that takes place?" "The greatest change, ma'am," said the little boy, "is the change in price."

Dr. Frederick Starr To Attend Celebration By Buddhist Sect

finitely mapped out as yet, he expects to visit the island of Shikoku, to make pilgrimages to the 88 sacred places of Kobo Daishi, the founder of the Shingon sect of Buddhism. "Kobo Daishi is one of my four favorite Japanese characters," says Doctor Starr, "and I have done much in following up his life and work. The Shingon sect, which he founded, has probably the most elaborate ritual and brilliant ceremonies and temples of all Buddhist sects in Japan. Kobo Daishi, who was born on the island of Shikiku, died about 1,100 years ago. He was a great writer and by some is believed to have originated the Kata-kana, a Japanese proverb consoling to a poor writer being that even the great master, Kobo Daishi, some times made a slip of the brush."

Doctor Starr's extensive studies into the religion of Japan have not been from a primary interest in Buddhism or Shinto as a religion, but because they are largely the fundamental base on which the structure of Japanese society has been reared. The branch of anthropology which deals with folk psychology is the study to which Professor Star has devoted his life, and through the religion of the people he gains an insight into their psychological processes. He has also made intensive studies of the people of South Africa and Mexico, having made 25 trips to Mexico to the purpose.

Doctor Starr plans to stay in the Japanese Empire until late May or early June, although a part of this time he will spend in Korea, a country which he has visited four times. He has been asked to make a collection of Japanese toys to be exhibited in the United States "which are interesting," he says, "because they show the ideal of amusement and pleasure of the Japanese people." He will probably be in Tokio for only a few days, and will be the guest of honor of the Tokio no Satsu Mutsukai at a reception Sunday evening.

U. S. RUBBER IMPORTS

Seattle, January 9.—Of interest to importers is the announcement that the City of Spokane, a freighter of the Pacific Steamship Company now loading cargo at Singapore, is expected to bring a substantial rubber shipment when it arrives here in February direct from the Orient. The Pacific Homeward Conference of Shipping Board operators in the Orient has authorised a rate of $12.50 per forty cubic feet on rubber from Singapore to Seattle and this gives Seattle a slight preferential in contrast with the former differential of approximately $11.00 in favor of New York as a rubber importing center. In 1918-19 Seattle led the United States in the importation of rubber, and during 1918 a total of 108,136,102 pounds were imported through this district. In 1919 rubber to the amount of 101,186,640 pounds, valued at $42,463,825, came through. Special facilities had been provided by the port here for the prompt handling of this cargo.
